Editor's Message

Wow .... What a busy summer!!! Things seemed to happen so fast, and now before we know the crunch of leaves are beneath our feet. Kids are back at school and the cars (sigh) are getting ready to head into the garage for the winter, but, what a great summer we had!

The club wind-up was hosted by Jim and Janice Beilby this year, and was a great way to bring everything to a close. Thank You Jim and Janice for opening your home and your yard to all of us. Terry brought along some great games and "treasure hunts" for us to get into, which we certainly did! Thanks Terry, it was a blast!

The season wound down at the Pony Corral this year with some great prizes being presented. Host, Peter Ginakes, held the draws from the entrants that had cruised in over the summer months. A couple of familiar faces were the lucky recipients of some nice prizes that's for sure. Peter has done a lot for the car clubs in the city for the past 15 years or so, and he definitely deserves some recognition for all that he has done. I'm not saying that "other" venues shouldn't be visited, but there is a certain loyalty that I think should be given to those that stand behind our club and what we stand for. I personally have a problem with promoting classic car events with Bud, Spud and Steak .... To me it is very hypocritical to put driving a vehicle and drinking alcohol in the same venue. We as parents, educate our children about the laws that restrict such an action, however, major sponsors here in the city feel it's a good way to advertise. Personally I don't believe alcohol should be used to entice people to venture out to your venue, no matter what the cost. We, as a club, promote "family" values and support children's charities, I don't think there is room for alcohol to be involved in any level whatsoever. Yes, the change for a Sunday night cruise was nice, yes the parking lot is bigger but on the whole you get car enthusiasts in a bigger lot, add alcohol to the mix and there is trouble coming behind you. I know of a couple of people who had their rides scratched or damaged in some small way, but it's not a small way to the guy or gal who has spent time, money and energy to get their ride to how they want to present it. All this to be crammed into a bigger lot with a Bud, Spud and Steak as an offering????

Ok well that's my opinion anyway.

Guess Who???

So you know how some days when you're at the car show, all you want to do is kick your feet off and do absolutely nothing .... Well here's the proof that it does happen. Apparently the day started with quite a bit of pep, but it soon fizzled right out. (Now I think I'm gonna get a kick in the butt for this one!) He started out just fine

But as the day wore on ....

And on .... And on .....someone needed to take a very much needed nap didn't they? Hey and I've gone to shows with one hell of a self induced headache and Never done this!!!
